Reported Soviet Pledge To Turks As

Balkans Crisis Takes New Turn

BRITAIN OFFERS AID TO YUGOSLAVS

THREE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE RAPIDLY-CHANGING SITUATION IN THE BALKANS LAST NIGHT MADE IT MORE DIFFICULT THAN EVER FOR HITLER TO PURSUE HIS PLANS OF QUICK CONQUEST IN SOUTH-EASTERN EUROPE. THEY WERE:—

(1) Britain, according to reports reaching B.U.P. in Belgrade, has told Yugoslavia of the aid that could be given her if she asked for British support;

(2) From Ankara and Moscow came reports that Russia had given Turkey assurances that Turkey had nothing to fear from the Soviet if Turkey had to fight.

(3) There were indications in Belgrade that the spirit of revolt against signing a pact with the Axis powers was spreading throughout the country.

Another development was the announcement that all the operations in the Yugoslav Army will be cancelled, beginning Tuesday. The reason for this was not disclosed.

Yugoslav Revolt

Officers Leave For Greece

Belgrade, Saturday. REPORT from the frontier says that three Yugoslav General Staff officers have entered Greece, "leaving their swords" in Yugoslavia.

With the swords, it adds, was a statement to the effect that they "want to fight immediately and without any of the procrastination which is taking place in Yugoslavia."

The officers are Major Simich, brother of the Assistant Foreign Minister, Major Vukobratovic, son of the former Montenegrin Generalissimo in the World War, and a Slovene Captain, whose name is not given.

It also reported that four Yugoslav pilots have flown in three aircraft to Greece to put the machines at the disposal of the Allied Forces.—Reuter.

Britain Acts

Britain and the U.S.A. were said in well-informed quarters in Belgrade last evening to have approached the Yugoslav Government in order to encourage that country to remain firm in its policy of Axis pressure.

According to this report, Britain and Yugoslavia of the which could be given, were asked for British support.

It was said to have involved the Yugoslav Government every possible aspect of the crisis which the latter had to face. The British Government was said to have on the Yugoslav Bill will have on the part of the British Government.

Soviet Pledge

According to usually well-informed quarters, the Soviet Government in Turkey will take the form of a statement issued by the Soviet Government.

A statement—which will require any formal signature—because of the Non-Intervention Pact already in force between the two countries—Soviet-Turkish relations will be reaffirmed at the most critical moment in Eastern European history.

According to the expression of opinion of the entry of German troops into Bulgaria, Russia should not be another Black Sea. She has nothing to fear from the Soviets.

It is believed that in the German attack on the Soviet, Russia would certainly resist.

TURKS' DEFENCE MILLIONS

Ankara, Saturday. THE Turkish National Assembly today voted supplementary credits of 10,000,000 Turkish pounds for national defence.

This makes the total expenditure for the 1940 Budget 174,000,000 Turkish pounds, or approximately 422,000,000 sterling.

TODAY'S RADIO HIGHLIGHT

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1941. Minister of Aircraft Production, will broadcast after the one o'clock news today.

Warm Time for Malta Raiders

Malta, Saturday. A NUMBER of bombs were dropped in a raid on Malta this afternoon. Heavy anti-aircraft fire met the raiders. A communication states:—

Early on Saturday morning the enemy carried out a reconnaissance flight over Malta. Anti-aircraft defences engaged him heavily.

"In the afternoon a heavy raid was carried out on Malta. Reports are not yet available."—Reuter.

SNOW IN SWEDEN

According to Stockholm, severe snow in some parts of the country. The worst known for over 30 years.

In Westerbotten, roads and railways are blocked.—Exchange.

Day Raider Down

NIGHT ATTACK IN NORTH

ENEMY planes were reported over a Northern town last night. No alert had, however, been sounded in the London area at a fairly late hour.

A hit-and-run raid is believed to have crashed into the sea off East Anglia last evening after being caught in heavy machine-gun fire.

Smoke poured from the plane as it turned out to sea, and shore watchers saw a big column of water shoot into the air.

Diving through low clouds, two Messerschmitt 109s yesterday dropped high explosive bombs on an East Coast town.

One bomb killed two men, and another, which damaged dwelling houses, injured several people.

An enemy plane, diving from low clouds over another East Coast town, machine-gunned the sea-front. People on the front threw themselves on the ground under a number of buildings, but no one was injured.

Later the raiders again appeared and gunned the town. Shoppers sought shelter in doorways and private houses. Bullets rained on a number of buildings, but no one was injured.

The considerable numbers of aircraft took part.

Among them were our new bombers, capable of carrying enormous loads.

Very heavy bombs were unexploded, and the raid lasted for several hours.

Though the night was dark, the heavy bombs were aimed through gaps in the clouds and were seen to burst in various parts of the harbour and the west dock.

ITALY IS HARD HIT

U.S. Attache

New York, Saturday. CAPTAIN THOMAS KINCARD, Naval Attache at the United States Embassy in Rome, returned by Clipper today and said when in New York City Italy had been hard hit.

In the last two months, he said, conditions had become "much worse," and obtaining food and ammunition was becoming more difficult.—A.P.

Four Miles

From Keren

ALLIED FORCES PRESS ON

From Our Own Correspondent

With the Middle East Army, Saturday. THE Free French Forces, who are taking part in the battle for Keren, attacking a 2,154-foot mountain position to the N.E. of the town, are making steady progress, and are now four miles from Keren.

Yesterday British aircraft again maintained their bombardments with no resultant great change in the situation.

I was able at dawn to visit a battery in action as they were hammering with 25-pounders a region where it is known that the Italians are concentrating.

Officers and men of the battery were terrified from the Home Counties and were driven from their positions, the Stock Exchange closed, and the City of London was in a state of confusion.

They formed part of the armoured striking force which swept through Eritrea. Today they are firing from elevated, camouflaged positions and were being directed by spotting planes.

STATION BOMBED

On the Middle East front, a communication reports:—

Sudan. One enemy bomber was destroyed at Tokar.

Abdulla's railway between Addis Ababa and Direwada was attacked with considerable success.

Many bombs were dropped on the station at Direwada, and three trains travelling between Addis Ababa and Direwada were effectively machine-gunned. Motor transport on the road was also attacked.

At the same time aircraft of the South African Air Force dive-bombed and machine-gunned military objectives at Direwada. Direct hits were registered on barracks and on the wireless station.

An enemy fighter which tried to intercept our bombers was badly damaged by one of our fighters.

Two trains in the station at Uro received direct hits.

At Gondar, a British merchant ship was started among stores and buildings at a military camp.

Tripolitania: During Thursday night transport on the road between Misurata and Sirte was bombed and machine-gunned.

From all these operations our aircraft returned safely.

WOMEN FLEE FROM ADDIS ABABA

Cairo, Saturday. THE Italian military authorities in Addis Ababa have already sent a number of women and children from the capital, according to a usually well-informed quarters in Cairo.

They have been evacuated to Jibuti by way of the Addis Ababa Railway which is now threatened by British Forces, which are pressing on to Harar from Jibuti.

The Italians are apparently anxious to evacuate non-combatants before the railway is cut.—B.U.P.

Lorient Blitzed For Four Hours By Our New Bombers

Other bombs on the river bank caused two violent explosions.

A night attack was also made on the Lorient area.

In daylight raids the R.A.F. bombed warships in the harbour, and supply ships off the coast.

One enemy ship of 2,000 to 3,000 tons was destroyed in Biscaya harbour, South Norway, as a result of co-operation between a wing commander and a squadron leader.

The squadron leader sighted the ship on Friday evening but as he had already dropped his bombs on the ship he could do no more than machine-gun the decks.

MASS OF FLAMES

The wing-commander decided to make a follow-up raid himself. Taking off during the night, he reached Biscaya at dawn yesterday.

Two of his four bombs made direct hits amidships, and two others burst close to the hull.

Within a few seconds the fore-

BRITISH RESCUE 1,300

FROM ITALIAN PRISON HELL

Mussolini's Black Hole of Mogadishu

WHEN MOGADISHU, THE IMPORTANT SEAPORT OF ITALIAN SOMALILAND, FELL TO THE VICTORIOUS BRITISH, THE ITALIAN GUARDS RAN UP THE WHITE FLAG. THEY FEARED A RISING, PANICKED, THEY SENT OFFICERS TO APPEAL TO OUR TROOPS TO TAKE CHARGE.

No wonder! For the horrors which the British soldiers discovered at Mogadishu were almost indescribable.

After years in a prison hell, where they suffered under corrugated iron roofs and existed mostly on salty water and handfuls of rice and beans, 1,300 captives were released by the conquering army.

Political prisoners interned by the Italians, all except 200 or 300 of them, were Abyssinians.

They had been kept in these revolting conditions for more than five years—ever since the Italo-Abyssinian war.

SALTY WATER

Others were anti-Pasist Somalis and British Indian traders. Among them were also 70 women, mostly Lebanese, from ships sunk by Nazi raiders in the Indian Ocean.

The prisoners had to sleep in hole-shelters protected from the rain, but under the corrugated iron roofs the heat was intolerable. Their only drinking water was from a well near the beach. This was salty. Bathing was allowed once a week under guard.

Conditions were worst among the Abyssinians, who were living in most unsanitary quarters. Disease was endemic. Prisoners who died were buried in matting without coffins.

The daily ration of food consisted of two cups of inferior rice, two cups of beans, an ounce of sugar and one-third of an ounce of tea. Meat was served only twice a week.

The prisoners were under constant surveillance by Italian guards posted on coral-built hills.

Even had they escaped they would have had to face miles of waterless sand and thush, which surrounded Mogadishu on three sides. On the fourth side is the sea.

ITALIANS HURLED TO THEIR DOOM

THE Greeks continue to take a heavy toll of the Italians in Albania, where Mussolini is still haunting his Abyssinians to their doom without any regard for loss of life," says a Greek Ministry statement quoted by Athens radio.

The Greeks are firmly maintaining all their positions which are considered to be impregnable.

Prisoners from the decimated Arditi Battalion say that the Italian people, including under the Duce's Fascist rule.

They report that reservists are being forced by Blackshirts and Carabinieri to leave for the front before the threat of immediate execution.—Reuter.

Thank goodness we had some Guinness at home!

hold was a mass of flames, and the vessel is regarded as a total loss.

Besides first spotting the supply ship, the squadron-leader described his trip as "the best I've had for a long time."

He also found coastal motor-boats in a flood, and in face of A.A. fire sprayed them with bullets.

Finally, he made a vertical "hell-dive" on an enemy aerodrome, and with his Benetton standing on its legs he saw the buildings below before pulling out of his dive with no more than 50 ft. to spare.

Off the Belgian coast a German tanker, escorted by warships, was bombed and set alight by a wing commander and a squadron leader.

Two of our planes are missing from the night raid. The other day raids on shipping all our aircraft returned.

G.L.H.K.

SPECIAL HOSTELS FOR WAR WORKERS

SPECIAL HOSTELS ARE TO BE BUILT NEAR MUNITION FACTORIES FOR MEN AND WOMEN ARMS WORKERS. They will be erected in areas where there are not enough private lodgings.

Menzies In Plymouth Inferno

AT the height of Friday night's blitz on Plymouth—the second on successive nights—Mr. R. G. Menzies, the Australian Prime Minister, made a tour of the city.

He arrived in Plymouth shortly before the raid began. He was staying with Lord and Lady Astor at their home on Hoe.

While bombs were dropping on blazing shops and houses Menzies left his shelter and made a tour of the city, regardless of the danger confronting him at every turn.

He insisted on lending his car for the conveyance of women and children bombed from their homes.

(See also Back Page.)

ROOSEVELT LEAVES FOR SEA VOYAGE

New York, Saturday. President Roosevelt left his yacht Potomac this morning for his vacation trip, according to dispatch from the Florida coast. The President may visit the Duke of Windsor, Governor of the Bahamas at Nassau, during his trip.—Reuter.

COLLEGE "LAB." AND STADIUM HIT IN LIVERPOOL

Liverpool, Saturday. BUILDINGS damaged by recent enemy air action in Liverpool were the University and the Stadium.

The only part of the University which was the engineering laboratory, a capacious building forming only one portion of the large University.

A high explosive went clean through the roof of the Stadium, crashed into the Press seats near the ringside and made a crater.

Thank goodness we had some Guinness at home!

Thank Guinness for strength and encouragement these days! Thank Guinness for sound, restful sleep these nights! Thank Guinness for its creamy head, and smiling, cheerful face! Thank Guinness for making life brighter! And thank goodness you remembered to order some Guinness for the home!

GUINNESS IS GOOD FOR YOU

FACTS 34

PERHAPS you may wonder what happens to pet economies you may send to us. Let's take an example.

Here is a Mr. Tucker (of Ayston, Camberley, Surrey), who sends four suggestions. (She is eighty-five years old so she should "know her onions" — even in war-time!)

Her letter goes first to the general sorting-office, from which it is sent to the recipe sorting-office (it would have gone there direct had she marked the envelopes "Recipes"). It is read by one of the women who have been chosen for their experience of the problems of feeding a family day after day, and who know, too, just what is in the national larder now. There is quite a job for as well as choosing something you like to eat and that is good for you, they must pick dishes for which you can get all the ingredients wherever part of the United Kingdom you live. Whether you are twenty miles from your nearest shop round the corner from a market, whether you're a flourishing vegetable grower, or have to buy your requirements narrow the choice a good deal. Three out of Mrs. Tucker's four suggestions fall down under a strict test. But the fourth is a

Stuffed Cabbage or Savoy?

The next recipe that passed all the tests comes from the initials "G.M." (she says she learnt to cook this in Beirut but gives no address.)

You need: 1 large cabbage (or savoy), 1 lb. cooked meat minced, 4 oz. breadcrumbs, 2 or 3 carrots, 1 small turnip, 1 parsnip (or any vegetable in season), salt, pepper. Grate the green vegetables and mix them well with the meat and breadcrumbs, salt and pepper. Wash the cabbage carefully, and shake, before stuffing the mince mixture between the leaves. To make sure the leaves do not open, tie a string round the cabbage, and then put it into a saucepan with a little boiling water, put on the lid, and cook steadily until tender. Save the water for soup or gravy.

Ask your Baker for National Wheatmeal Bread! It's better for you, and the same price as white.

TIPS CHOSEN FROM POSTBAG THIS WEEK

Miss Renole of Stowmarket reminds us that baking bread more goes good in a better than does boiled. Even when the skin should be slightly browned, the best will not make, and the skin will easily peel off when cooked.

Mrs. L. Ashton of York writes to get the stoma-ward.

A simple cure is don't fry things but boil or steam or bake.

We hope you will contribute to our central fund of food facts with your own recipes, tips and reminders.

Don't forget to register for these before Saturday, 27th March, if you want to be sure of your share when rationing comes in.

RAF BOYS HAVE ALL THE FUN OF THE FAIR

By HAROLD A. ALBERT

ENTRENCHED AT THE GATES OF BARDIA, THE AUSTRALIANS WERE CHANTING "WAITING MATILDA."

A FEW MILES OUT AT SEA LAZ THE BRITISH FLEET, DELIVERING 150 TONS OF SHELLS INTO THE BELEAGUERED LEGIONS "FOR ALL THE WORLD LIKE TRAMS HURRYING DOWN THE MILE END ROAD."

THEN A POWERFUL FORMATION OF FIVE SAVOIA MARCHETTI 870'S ZIMMED FROM THE AZURE SKY TO BOMB THE BATTLESHIPS.

A LONE BRITISH PILOT ROSE TO THE ATTACK—AND POLISHED THEM OFF HIS NAME IS FLIGHT-LIEUTENANT H. LAPSLEY.

Upward screamed his Hurricane, and the British fleet delivered their loads well astern of the Fleet and turned tail.

Scorning the enemy's gun apiece, Lapsley interpreted the leader and let him have it. His own guns spoke in eight short bursts.

The Italian plane shivered downward and fell into the British lines. When the experts came to examine it, they found the aircraft riddled with 600 bullet-holes.

Instantly, Lapsley made a dash for the second machine. His fingers had pressed home only the second burst when the enemy's engine stalled. He was so close that the heat was scorching and he was sure to get the second burst.

Still another plane went down in flames, the third in the series. Lapsley attributes one victory to the Fleet's attack—and the other to his own.

Remaining few was making desperate attempts to escape.

Before it could reach the safety of a cloud, four long bursts from the Englishman set its engine smoking and the machine went eddying down towards the sea.

In the same patch of sky, a young flying officer from India landed 12,000 feet up when he spotted the Fiat CR-42 fighters escorting a flight of Breda bombers.

Unhastily, he attacked the first two with such violence that the pilots switched the aircraft on to their backs—and baled out.

Then he attacked the other three—and three more Italians tumbled to the sea.

Later on, he sighted two more CR-42s. One he stalked and attacked head-on, just managing to clear him. Badly damaged, the Italian dropped.

Tirelessly he gave another burst to the seventh fighter, but now his own fuel had been expended and the fumes were choking him.

When three more Italian fighters surrounded the ailing pilot, he was blinded for three or four minutes, and couldn't see them. Still he made a happy landing.

When you talk about his luck—he won a D.F.C. in Palestine.

TOOK ON ALL COMERS

WALKED HOME SIXTY MILES

THIRTEEN

British fliers met thirty-seven Italian bombers and shot down thirteen of them.

Eight-Lieut. Wycheman-Brown gained the D.F.C. for a similar feat. He, however, baled out, and was rescued by his crew.

Until tonight he hid in a clump of bushes, and then trekked to his headquarters in the water bottle.

His appointment! The bottle was smashed. Just about then, to his astonishment, he discovered he had been followed by a chimp. Alternate feline and canine attacks had been his lot.

Undimmed, he took his gun and set out on the five-hour march to the frontier. Late the following morning a convoy of one of the "Hunters" met him and took him up.

That same day he was flying again, doing the Italian what he called a return hit!

Near Tripoli a British bomber rearguard, when we'll call "Sergeant's" was knocked out by attack and came down to find himself lying on the wreckage of his plane with his legs trailing in the sea.

A whole lot of crew was struggling in the water trying to rig the rubber dingy. Then the plane sank from under them and both were left with but a slim chance of coming through.

Shortly decided to try to swim the half-mile to shore, even though blood was streaming from his head and one injured arm.

The other man elected to stay with the overturned dingy, in that long swim Shorby had plenty of time to recall how he had been plastering the Italian stronghold when their plane caught fire.

When he reached the beach he collapsed unconscious.

But it was only the beginning of his adventures.

RECOVERING

lines, he started to walk inland—and the plane was hours found himself back where he had started.

This time Shorby found the dinghy. His friend was lashed to it, dead.

That night he lay before his eyes he set off again. As the sky darkened he slept in a little stone outpost which the Italian troops had deserted.

With the dawn, without food or water, he found some faint car tracks and followed them.

He was on the verge of collapse when a driver at last discovered him.

In 2,000 bombing raids by the Cairo Command there have been more exploits and escapes than it is possible to tell. Some, indeed, are being lost to history for ever because the pilots concerned are silent young men.

"It's the only light," is all they will say.

HEROES OF THE DESERT WAR

"NONE of our plans would have succeeded had not our pilots wrested the control of the air from a far more numerous enemy." So said Mr. Churchill, reviewing the decisive victories of the desert campaign. In the second article of this series, Harold A. Albert tells for the first time of the exploits of these modern Knights of the Air in what once was Mussolini's African Empire.

I remember that pigs do not like rhubarb leaves, eggshells, green grounds, tea leaves, fish bones, or meat, or anything that is acid, sour or oiled.

I know that bones yield phosphorus for explosives, glass and flint for I keep these separate also. If I

I tell them till they are as clean as a whistle (and get nourishing soup from their first) so much the better. If I let my dog gnaw them, they will still be useful as war material.

Cut this out—and keep it!

One Group A Month HOW THE GIRLS END RENT RAMP IS M.P.'s PLEA

THREE GROUPS ARE SUFFERING FROM THE FIRST RACKET RAMPANT IN CERTAIN "SAFE AREAS" WHICH MINISTERS OF HEALTH HERBERT BROWN IS TO BE ASKED TO END. THEY ARE:

1. Evacuated civil servants, 2. Industrial and commercial firms, and householders who have left their homes, 3. Business areas and are in process of being evacuated.

There has been a big influx of people from all these groups. The Women's Country Rural Welfare League, which is a voluntary organization, has been asked to take on the responsibility of looking after the women in these areas.

One feature of the earlier stages of the evacuation is that large numbers of short-handled typists and girl clerks, now engaged in industries which are not absolutely essential, will be called on to take up work in munition factories.

On the other hand it was estimated officially yesterday that women should not give up their present jobs for more essential work unless the Government exchange advises them to do so.

Even when women have been registered under the order must be expected to stick to their present jobs. They will be told what they should do at the interview following registration.

THE "OLD LAND" TIE

Farm Girl Army Have Own Colours

MEMBERS OF THE WOMEN'S LAND ARMY HAVE BEEN ISSUED WITH THEIR OWN "REGIMENTAL TIE" in dark green in colour. It has long stripes of red. On the left stripes the letters "W.L.A." are repeated again and again. The tie is made of the land girls are in the place of men gardeners. This tie is considered only women's vegetables. I was told by the Land Army's House Band. Employers must understand to put them on flower garden.

This Must End At Once! Raw Deal For Soldiers' Mothers

BY OUR POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT

THE WAR OFFICE IS GIVING A SHABBY DEAL TO THE WIDOWED MOTHERS OF YOUNG SOLDIERS WHO WIN PROMOTION.

If the mother is receiving a War Office allowance, that allowance is immediately cut down by the amount that the son receives as a result of his promotion.

If he wishes his mother to receive the same income as before, he must make up the sum from his own pocket.

Captain Montgomery, Secretary for War, whose attention has been drawn to this, has stated that the War Office financial experts are now looking into the regulation with a view to altering or discarding it.

DISSATISFACTION

That should be done soon, for it is causing considerable dissatisfaction among young soldiers and their mothers.

Here is a typical case. The mother of a young soldier who has been promoted to the rank of Captain, has been told that her allowance will be cut down by the amount that the son receives as a result of his promotion.

A young soldier who enlisted early last year received 15s. 6d. a week, and allowed his mother 10s. 6d. a week. When he was promoted to the rank of Captain, his allowance was increased to 25s. 6d. a week, but his mother's allowance was cut down to 10s. 6d. a week.

This is a very discouraging situation to a mother who is dependent on her son's allowance for her living expenses.

After a day of light showers, rain fell steadily in the Straits of Dover and the calm sea was thrown in mist, and there was a slight north-westerly wind.

All Fire Guards Must Read This!

MISUNDERSTANDINGS ARE CLEARED UP WITH THE PUBLICATION YESTERDAY OF A MEMORANDUM EXPLAINING MR. HERBERT MORRISON'S FIRE PREVENTION ORDER FOR FACTORIES, SHOPS AND BUSINESS PREMISES.

TERROR OF WOPS

A.C. Squad's New Chief

NOTABLE among a number of appointments announced by the Admiralty yesterday was the selection of Acting Rear-Admiral Denis Boyd to the command of the Aircraft Carrier Squadron.

He was in command of the aircraft carrier Illustrious when she repulsed Nazi dive-bombers which attacked her for seven hours in the Mediterranean last January.

He was promoted for his part in the action and for the bombing of Italian battleships.

Admiral Cunningham, the Commander-in-Chief of the Mediterranean Fleet, has a new Chief of Staff in Commander John H. Jellicoe, and Rear-Admiral James W. S. Doring has been appointed to command the Malaya, in charge of the naval establishments in Singapore.

TRAVELLING "EXES"

There is nothing to prevent the employment of full or part-time fire-prevention personnel, nor is there any need to revise existing schemes so long as they have been approved.

To conform with the Order, a scheme must be one which secures an adequate number of fire duties at all times; a period of duty to be shared, equally if possible, by the fire-prevention personnel, and to be not more than 48 hours a month.

Sleeping accommodation, access to lavatories, should be made available, with provision for refreshments, or an allowance in lieu of pocket money, and travelling expenses should be made.

For taxation purposes of providing fire personnel, meals or other facilities should be provided, and a revenue expense.

Persons working a 48-hour week on vital work should not be expected to take part in fire prevention duties outside working hours, but they may volunteer.

If an occupier fails to make the necessary arrangements, or to report his inability to do so, the fire-prevention authority disapproves arrangements made, the authority may itself make arrangements as regards fire duties.

Order compulsory or otherwise.

SAVINGS ARE STILL SOARING

Last week a total of £12,485,503 was raised in the War Savings Campaign, of which £4,180,148 was from Savings Certificates, £4,428,445 from Defence Bonds, and £3,876,910 from increase in the value of War Bonds and Trustee Savings Banks.

Since the campaign opened a grand total of £87,762,000 has been raised. 1,429 savings groups have been affiliated during the campaign, making a grand total of 188,579 groups.

"MILLIONS IN AID" BILL TOMORROW

The Bill now goes to the Senate for full debate, and is expected to be passed on Monday.

"The People's" Secret Service News

(EXCLUSIVE)

TROUBLE of a new kind which may spread across the whole of Europe is developing since the Nazis are developing a new type of warfare, the "Secret Service" warfare.

Inside Norway itself, the Nazis have also been taking over the control of the police and the fire services.

They have increased its personnel to more than 30 per cent by the inclusion of trained German men from Germany.

ADMITTEDLY SERIOUS TO THE NAZI MENACE HAS FOR ANOTHER REASON NOW BEEN PLACED IN THE FOREFRONT OF NAZI PROPAGANDA.

It is significant, however, that the effort is being made by the Nazis to hide from their people the fact that they are taking over the control of the police and the fire services.

It is significant, however, that the effort is being made by the Nazis to hide from their people the fact that they are taking over the control of the police and the fire services.

U.S. warships are now being painted in British battle grey...

Today's Good Turn

BECAUSE the demand for "The People's" paper is so great, the number of copies permitted to be printed is so small, that a restriction order, it is not always possible to obtain the paper even though a regular order may have been recently placed with the newspaper.

A result of this extraordinary position is that many would-be readers are disappointed each Sunday. All they can do is to place their names on a waiting list with their newsagent in the hope that copies will be available when other readers leave the district.

Meanwhile, those readers receiving "The People's" regularly can help to relieve the situation by posting on their copies when they have finished, to friends who have been disappointed. So "PASS 'THE PEOPLE' ON."

U.S. Will See We Get The Goods

The insistence of the Axis powers that American aid to Britain will come too late is an indication of the dismay it has caused them.

It is L. C. C. and L. C. C. R. Fletcher, Parliamentary Private Secretary to the First Lord of the Admiralty, at Bristol, yesterday.

The Lease-and-Lend Bill itself was also the measure of German stupidity.

Had Germany confined herself to redressing her grievances, realising that the isolationist spirit in America would have prevailed, America would not have intervened to restore Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Hitler has perceived that once the American people had decided that it was vital to their supply with munitions, we could safely turn to them to ensure that their munitions reached us.

"Uncle Sam is a good post," he has added. "He will not have his mails robbed or his parcels delivered to wrong addresses."

In the battle of the Atlantic, since the war began, we are our major war problems today.

Our losses were not the whole of the matter. Every bit as urgent were the problems of repairing our ships, of maintaining our convoys and avoiding waste.

If you waste now," he declared, "you will go in waste."

Eggs are hard to find...

But housewives don't mind!

EVERYBODY knows how hard it is these days to get eggs, but the British housewife mind is not so.

Long ago, women discovered that the British housewife mind is not so.

How did Kellogg's get this name? It was because, in actual fact, they do take only 30 seconds to serve. You can prove it for yourself. Kellogg's is not cooking—you just pour those crisp golden flakes straight from the packet on to the plate. Think of the saving in time!

And here's an important point for those who value the appearance of their hands—there's no greasy frying-pan or messy saucepan to scour.

DELICIOUS, NOURISHING

Kellogg's are so crisp and fresh that everybody loves them. Serve them with a little milk and sugar—with honey if you like. Or you can serve Kellogg's just plain with milk or fruit.

What's more, as an energy-providing food, the 30-second breakfast from the front range, Kellogg's are rich in carbohydrates, which give you quick energy. And you get such good energy, that you can do as much as you like. The big family packet costs only 5s. and contains ten big breakfasts. That's only 5s. a time!

Ask your grocer for Kellogg's today. There has been a tremendous increase in the demand for this splendid breakfast, but supplies are distributed over the country as evenly as possible. If you should find your grocer temporarily out of stock, ask him to put them on order for you.

SCIENTIFIC PROOF of the great energy-giving power of the "30-Second Breakfast."

An analysis made at a leading laboratory shows that a bowl of Kellogg's with milk and sugar has more energy than a bowl of 3 eggs. 3 average eggs 220 calories. 3 average bowls 220 calories.

The 30-Second Breakfast.

Huns Dive Bomb Blazing Ruins

Tragedy of Plymouth

Children Perish In Night Blitz

SMOKE FROM THE SMOULDERING RUINS OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS, SHOPS AND HOMES HUNG YESTERDAY LIKE A FUNERAL PALL OVER STRICKEN PLYMOUTH.

Under the debris lay the bodies of many men, women and children. Under it, too, still alive, but trapped, lay other men, women and children.

GOERING HAD STRUCK AGAIN During Friday night—the second night in succession—Nazi bombers had made Plymouth their target.

Thursday's raid was the worst the city had then experienced. But Friday's was worse.

Twenty thousand incendiaries were showered on shopping and residential districts. Hundreds of high explosives came with them.

At one time, when fires were blazing and rescue workers, men, A.R.P. workers and police were fighting gallantly to fight the flames, and save the victims, the Huns continued their murderous work by dive bombing the blazing ruins.

At present the same time as the night before the raiders began to come in waves, telephones a few minutes ago were ringing. They seemed to fly very low. Then down came the incendiary bombs in their thousands.

"The fires were so numerous and so fierce that it was impossible for the fire services to tackle them all. You could read a newspaper several miles away by the glow of the flames."

"For several hours the terrible roar of destruction continued. Nor content with the havoc already wrought, the raiders defying the intense A.A. barrage, dive-bombed the flames."

"When daylight came the smoke from smouldering piles hung over the stricken town. Rescue workers toiled gallantly on."

"The homeless were taken to communal centres to be fed and cared for, the injured to receive medical aid of the tireless hospital workers."

"Others still lay trapped under the debris of their homes."

DESTROYED "Service personnel, including soldiers and sailors, sent a willing hand to civil defence workers."

"Many of the buildings damaged the night before were completely destroyed."

"But from all this order by fire and smoke there shone forth even brighter than the flames, the bravery, courage and devotion of the thousands of unnamed heroes."

One of the men who shared Plymouth's ordeal was Mr. R. G. George. Medals and a Whiting, which he arrived in the town shortly before the attack began. He is known to be safe.

Mr. Menzies, who was continuing his tour of the provinces, spent the night at the home of Lady Astor.

"STRIKING SUCCESS" The German News Agency exulted yesterday over the raid. It claimed that strong bomber formations were used.

"Violent explosions and considerable fires were seen," it added. "Docks and warehouses were bombed with striking success."

It said nothing about the homes that had been desolated. Nor of the women and children who had perished.

YUGOSLAV REBELT GROWS

Peasants' Party at a meeting today.

The search for a "dummy" Ministry to complete the pro-Axis Cabinet was continued throughout the day by the Yugoslav Government. Military Council, including all members of the General Staff, and the Yugoslav Government, met in secret session.

According to some Belgrade sources, the Navy had which was the official communication to British circles in Cairo and London. Mr. Stoyadinovich, the former Yugoslav Premier and Foreign Minister, was attempting to hedge on the agreement, perhaps only to stall time.

The German Government was extremely anxious and impatient. The highlight in the new yesterday was the official communication to British circles in Cairo and London. Mr. Stoyadinovich, the former Yugoslav Premier and Foreign Minister, was attempting to hedge on the agreement, perhaps only to stall time.

Other four Opposition Senators were said yesterday to be planning their resignations. All four of the Independent Democratic Party were ordered yesterday to resign any Government posts they may have, and a similar decision was expected to be reached by the Serbian

Eight month claim

100,000 TONS OF SHIPPING SUNK

ACCORDING TO NAZI GERMANY CAPITAL SHIPS HAVE SUNK 22 BRITISH MERCHANT SHIPS IN THE ATLANTIC.

The communiqué was apparently referring to the operations of the German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, and read:

"Naval Chief Admiral Luetjens, commanding a formation of battleships, reported as a result of a lengthy North Atlantic enterprise, the sinking of 22 enemy merchant ships of a total tonnage of 116,000 tons."

Eight hundred survivors were rescued by the German warships, the report added.

In a further claim the communiqué stated:

"German U-boats attacked off the West African Coast a heavily armed and manned British convoy bound for England."

PLANE ATTACK "After following his trail for several days, and carrying out repeated attacks, the U-boat succeeded in sinking eleven enemy ships of a total tonnage of 77,000 tons."

Yesterday the German Air Force also inflicted heavy losses upon the British Merchant Navy. Altogether about 31,000 tons were sunk in a single day, enemy ships of a total tonnage of 35,000 tons heavily damaged."

Amongst others, German planes on Friday night destroyed a heavily protected convoy north of Crete, the report continued.

A tanker of the most modern type, of a tonnage of 12,000 tons, was sunk off the coast of Crete. It was scored and must be regarded as lost."

In waters around Malta, bombs were reported on the bows of a British destroyer. In waters around England one merchant ship of 1,000 tons was sunk in the Bristol Channel in addition to a tanker of 4,000 tons."

A merchant ship of 2,000 tons was sunk south-east of Alderbury, after a direct hit by a U-boat registered B.U.P. and Exchange.
